CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19)

March 13, 2020

Effective Saturday, March 14 and continuing through Sunday, March 29:

- All classes, events and meetings are cancelled
- Refunds will be issued for all cancelled classes and events
- All overdue fines are being waived

These actions are precautionary measures. We are as disappointed as you are to cancel classes, events and meetings at our facility. At this point in time, our main concern is keeping our members and staff safe. While the facility is open, we are following recommendations from the Department of Health for cleaning and disinfecting.

The coronavirus outbreak is a rapidly changing situation. Staff and the public will be informed regularly with updates on how the library is handling the situation and when any additional parts of the closure or continuation of service plan are implemented. We recommend following the guidance of the Centers For Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), which includes watching for symptoms such as fever, cough, and shortness of breath.

We also recommend you visit our website to see the many library resources that can be accessed from home with your library card, including: ebooks, audiobooks, magazine, videos and more.
